Overview – IDC Reporting for North Carolina – estimated length 1 hour

Just looking for the highlights? This training may be right for you! This training will cover how to log in and navigate in the system, as well as a brief introduction of what is new for 2024. Anyone new to using the North Carolina IDC system may find value in this session.

Target Audience: This training will be targeted at all carriers that must interact with the IDC system and/or data. Audience may include compliance personnel, underwriters, finance and/or accounting professionals, actuaries, or IT professionals. This training is open to anyone with an interest in IDC related topics.

All trainings will close with time for any Questions and Answers – or send your questions ahead of time to dcsupport@ncrb.org.

Expense Experience Details – estimated length 1 ½ hours

Questions about the Expense Experience Data Calls? This is the training for you! We will go over the definitions that are commonly used for the various components, as well as highlight an added screen for the collection of ceded Motorcycle data (which includes the collection of exposures). We will cover Company Details, data submission, the edit process, and more.

Target Audience: This training will be targeted at all companies which report the IDC expense experience data. Audience may include compliance, actuaries, underwriters, finance and/or accounting, or IT professionals.

All trainings will close with time for any Questions and Answers – or send your questions ahead of time to dcsupport@ncrb.org.

Ceded Commercial Auto – New Process – estimated length 1 hour

Starting in 2024, the statistical data for companies which cede Other Than Private Passenger Liability to the North Carolina Reinsurance Facility will be collected using North Carolina's Insurance Data Collection (IDC) Reporting Tool. This training will show how the process has changed from prior years, highlighting the new format – a text file upload. This training will also describe the fining process that governs this data call.

Target Audience: This training will be targeted at NCRF Carriers that cede Commercial Auto data. Any individuals that interact with the statistical data may find this beneficial. Other audiences may include compliance, actuaries, underwriters, statistical reporting professionals, finance and/or accounting, or IT professionals.

All trainings will close with time for any Questions and Answers – or send your questions ahead of time to idcsupport@ncrb.org.
